BIG GAMES FOR PHILADELPHIA

INTERCOLLEGIATE ASSOCIATION DECIDES ON THAT CITY.

Recommendation of Executive Committee to Transfer Meet Accepted Without Murmur at Annual Meeting-Armstrong of Princeton Elected President.

The Intercollegiate Association of Amateur thletes of America held its twenty-eighth annual convention in room DR of the Avenue Hotel yesterday, and the affairs of the organization for the fiscal year were reviewed, some new rules adopted and a new set of officers elected for the ensung season. As to the speed with which the business was disposed of, all previous records were broken, for the session only occupied twenty-eight ninutes. Compared with those of former years the convention was rather tame, there being no gathering of "old grads" who usually come to crack jokes and have fun with the youngsters. But there were a couple present who held on to the old time veneration and traditions of the gathering. Notably H Lysatt Guyelen of Pennsylvania, who has attended every convention since the first one, and F. B. Ellis of the same college. The members of the advisory boardjustavus T. Kirby, Columbia; Murdock Kendrick, Pennsylvania, and Thornton Gerrish, Harvard-were present, as well as Secretary C. Robert Adams, New York University, and Treasurer Romeyn Berry, Cor-The unlucky number of thirteen colleges was represented out of a membership of twenty-four composing the association.

President E. Stauffen, Jr., of Columbia, presided and the colleges, with their repre-centatives, answered the roll call as follows: Yale-G. Elton Parks; Swarthmore-P. Marshall Taylor: Syracuse-F. E. Clarke: Harvard-Payson Dana; Pennsylvania—J. C. Glipen and J. H. M. Carter; New York University—C. Robert Adams; Haverford-H. M. Thorn and A. H. Hopkins: Cor neil-S. H. Secretary Adams read his report, and in it was embodied the report of the executive committee, which covered considerable was a recommendation in the shape of a resolution adopted at a meeting on Jan. 16 last that the annual track and field championship. May 27 and 28 next, should be held r Franklin Field Philadelphia, For some days past there was a rumor that the transdays past there was a rumor that the transfer of these games to the Quaker City would meet with stout opposition in the convention, but such opposition was not apparent yesterday. F. E. Clark of Syracuse rose and asked the chair if, admitting that the games were held this year at Philadelphia, it would be binding that they be held at Soldiers Field, Harvard, in 1905. He was informed from the chair that the resolution touching on Harvard having the games in 1905 was not binding.

on Harvard having the games in 1900 was bo-binding.

Some time ago it was announced that the evecutive committee had decided that the annual games were this year to go to Phila-delphia, and people wondered where the committee got their power from. It was evident from yesterday's proceeding that the committee had not overstepped its juris-diction, for the transfer of the games came up for treatment before the convention in the regular way. rules governing the awarding of the

The rules governing the awarding of the championship cup came in for some over-hauling. In future the college who wins it five times shall become its owner, and ties shall not count. In case of disputes over the trophy, the matter will be in the hands of the executive committee, and not the association, as in former years. The new rules are as follows:

as in former years. The new rules are as follows:
Rule 1.—This cup shall be awarded to that college of the L. C. A. A. A. A., which shall first win the annual field meeting five times including ties.
Rule II.—Section I.—That college shall be champion which shall score a plurality of points.
Sec. 2.—Points shall be counted as follows: A first place shall count three points. A second place shall count three points. A third place shall count two points. A fourth place shall count one point. In case of a tie the points shall be divided.
Sec. 3.—In the case of two or more colleges scoring an equal number of points, then if one of these colleges shall have been champion for the previous year, that college shall continue to hold the championship and cup for the ensuing year.
Sec. 4.—In case the championship of the previous year be not of those colleges described under Section 3 of Rule II., and that two or more colleges shall score an equal number of points for the ensuing year, the championship shall be held in abeyance and the cup shall be held by the Association.
Sec. 5.—The college winning or tieing for the intercollegiate championship shall have their name inscribed on the cup together with the date and place of the annual field meeting.
Rule III.—All disputes in regard to the possession of the cup shall be referred to the executive committee of the association.

sion of the cup shall be referred to the executive committee of the association. In the laws of athletics the definition of the finish line was remodelled, though the meaning is pretty much the same as the old rule. The new rule reads as follows: rule. The new rule reads as follows:

The finish line shall be a line on the ground drawn across the track from finish post to finish post and the men shall be placed in the order in which they completely cross this line. For the purpose of aiding the judges, but not at the finish line, at thread shall be stretched across the track at the finish, four feet above the ground, it shall not be held by the judges, but fastened to the finish posts on either side so that it may always be at right engles to the course and parallel to the ground, this thread should be breasted by the competitor or competitors in finishing and not seized with the hands.

It was evident from the time of the meeting and from the work of the executive committee in the past that the I. C. A. A. A. A. is bent on supporting the college meet at the t. Louis world's fair. The following resolution was adopted without a murmur: Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the association be represented at the intercollegi-ate games of the St. Louis exposition and that the executive committee be and are hereby authorized to take such action to this end as to it seems wise and expedient.

to take such action to this end as to it seems wise and expedient.

From the secretary's report it was learned that Michigan University and Lafayette College were suspended for not being represented at the last track and field championship, but on a motion the colleges were reinstated, providing they pay their dues. Applications for membership were received from Buckneil University of Lewisburg, Pa., and Colgate University of Hamilton, N. Y. Harry Emerson Fosdick appeared on behalf of the latter institution, and after explaining all about its athletic aspirations it was moved that Colgate be admitted, and, there being no dissenting voice, Bucknell was also admitted.

Treasurer Berry then read his report, which showed that the association has on hand $3.786.57 at the present moment and this is the largest balance ever recorded to the credit of the organization. It contained several interesting items. The profits from the track and field championship of 1903 amounted to $1,404.75, and the perambulations of the executive committee this year were costly, for the expenses totalled up to $757.04.

It was expected that the election of officers would russ off smoothly, but a contest devel-

This will be another busy season for Andrew Jackson Joyner, considered by many turf sharps the best trainer of racehorses in America. Joyner will again have charge of the big stables of James B. Haggin and Sydney Paget. The most famous horse in the Haggin barn is Waterboy, of course, and Joyner believes that the black son of Watercress will once more prove the champion of them all. Mr. Paget will be represented by a string of forty thoroughbreds, most of which have been leased from Mr. Haggin, it is generally believed. Football Games for New York University, The 1904 football schedule for New York University as arranged thus far shows decided improvement on its predecessors in that no hall games have been arranged for the beginning of the season. West Point is again on the schedule for the first time in several years. The schedule at present is as follows: decided improvement on its predecessors as follows:

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27.-The stewards

intend to punish every one connected with the deception that was practised on them yesterday with Sweet Pepper. To-day they suspended Trainer J. H. McCoulsky was before the stewards to-day He frankly admitted that he had brought the filly Sweet Pepper to the paddock after counterfeit horse had been sent to the paddock. McCoulsky stated also that he Griffin had studied the rules carefully for three days before the race, and that as they interpreted them, they could only be fined. Already political and other influence is at

and his horse removed. The Speed Stakes at six furlongs was the feature of the racing this afternoon. A fair lot of sprinters paraded to the post. New York, the Eastern sprinter, was the favorite. Autumn Leaves was the good thing of the race. The tip was out early and she was backed down from tens to 6 to 1. Scorpio, who has beaten everything around here at six furlongs and under, was practically weighted out of the race, being asked to pack 126 pounds. The start was a wretched one, with Redman off in front, but it did not take Scorpio long to overtake the leader The big gelding raced out in front and se a merry clip, closely followed by Redman. At the eighth pole Scorpio began to falter, and Roue, Frank Bell and Autumn Leaves closed in on him. Scorpio dropped out of it immediately, and Frank Bell, Roue and Autumn Leaves fought it out. The last named secured the verdict by a nose on the post. Roue beat Frank Bell for the place. The victory of Pretorious in the first race caused a sensation. Pretorious was played down from 100 to 1 to 30 to 1. Pretorious is owned by a printer on one of the after noon papers and was played by all of the typos.

It was children's day at the Sportsmen's Show in Madison Square Garden yesterday and the little ones enjoyed themselves hugely. They seemed to be perfectly at home and the bear, looked at the tiny fish in the hatchery, watched the gaudy colored pheasants and other birds of gay plumage, were interested in the Indians, particularly in Bright Eyes, the little girl at the Indian camp, and roamed around the Garden having a good The boys looked with wonderment at the performances of Steve Van Allen and Capt

Among others who were noticed third of 1904, the others having been the South Florida amateur and open, won, re-spectively, by Walter J. Travis and Gil Nicholls. during the day were President Samuel Walter Taylor, Dr. John H. Girdner, Dr. Robert T. Morris, May Irwin, Ernest Thompson Seton Although icebound, the links about New York were in fair winter shape yesterday, and there were pienty of golfers out. A few days of sunny weather will help to bring the frost out of the ground, but, except on the sandy courses, there will be few formal competitions until April. There were from a dozen to twenty golfers out yesterday at Dyker Meadow, Garden City and Englewood, all courses that are good early in the season. There will be the usual closing of links, when needed, during March, to give the new grass an opportunity to get a firm start. Homer Wise, Major J. W. Pond, chief game protector of the State of New York, and several of his assistants.
Senator Bailey of Suffolk county, paid a visit to the show and chatted about the bill that he has introduced, which is to enable yachtsmen and others to sail from East Rockaway to Orient Point without going outside the bays on the south side of Long Island. These bays are to be connected by canals, and the bill asks for an appropriation of $200,000 to do the work. If this work is done it will be a big boon to yachtsmen who frequent the southern side of Long Island. The action of the Power Boat Association in making special classes for automobile boats caused considerable discussion among the builders of these boats at the show yesterday. The association held a meeting on Friday night, and decided that an automobile boat is one that exceeds ten times the square root of its low water line length. In this class the midship section is to be the actual greatest transverse immersed area, and the classification is to be all below 50 feet in one class, between 50 feet and 100 feet in another, and over 100 feet in the third. In England the line is drawn at 40 feet, which, according to the builders of these boats, is a better limitation than 50 feet, and the builders argue that it would have been better to have made the limitations shorter, because a boat that will measure 40 feet will get into the same class as smaller boats, like the Vingt-et-Un, Fiat, Dolphin and Panhard, and the smaller boats will be at a great disadvantage.

The fly casting yesterday afternoon was Rockaway to Orient Point without going East Orange, Feb. 27.—Through the inability to keep the builders from the links, the East Orange Golf Club is to be disbanded, and on March 31, which will mark the close of the club's fiscal year, the doors of the club-house will be closed. The first president was the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, the rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Orange. A large tract of land was rented in East Orange and a club house erected, and for a long time there was a big waiting list. The fly casting yesterday afternoon was in Class N, for accuracy: open to all. S. M. Spiegle was first, M. L. La Branch, second, and D. Brandreth, third.

In Class N, for accuracy and distance, the mathematics gone into by the judges took considerably longer than the contest itself. M. J. Mills won with a percentage of 129.5. One judge, who said he had employed algebra, integral calculus and solid geometry in figuring the percentages, said that C. M. Lucky had made second: but two other judges, who had done their little best with simple arithmetic, stuck to it that M. H. Smith had secured second place. However, it was secured second place. However, it was agreed that D. F. Abercrombie was fourth, with percentage undetermined.

The programme contained five events and one, a short dash of twenty yards, was open to members of the Church Athletic League. It drew entries from half a score of clubs and the competition was brisk, the honors finally going to Petersen of the home club. The obstacle race caused intense amusement, some of the performers, who were bulky around the body, getting entangled in the netting and underneath the mat. It was finally won by J. OUTLINE OF HERRMANN'S RIDGE-WOOD DECISION.

Expected to Say New York Americans and Brooklyns Can Both Play There -Nothing Extraordinary in Possible Whitney Sale-Harvard's Football Coach

Although the National Baseball Commission heard the evidence in the Ridgewood case on Feb. 11, Chairman Herrmann, who was left to decide the matter, has not yet been heard from. It is understood that Mr. Herrmann has been seeking the opinion of different magnates on the proposition to allow the New York Americans to play at Ridge wood, and it is freely predicted that if Mr Ebbets cannot justify his present stand Chairman Herrmann, after due consideration will decide that Washington Park, is neutra territory and that both the New York Americans and the Brooklyns can play Sunday games there without conflict.

"It was nothing extraordinary," a leading turfman yesterday, "for Harry Payne Whitney to decide to sell the big stable collected by his father. Nearly all of the big owners, including August Belmont, the Keenes, John Sanford and Julius Fleischmann and others, held big sales last year simply because they wanted to use the pruning knife. Mr. Whitney has a lot of horses whose stake engagements were cancelled by the death of his father, that are of no immediate use to him, yet would be of value to many horsemen able and willing to pay handsomely for them. By selling off the undesirable and by keeping the big breeding establishment at Lexington, Ky., Mr. Whitney would simply do what almost any turfman would do under the circumstances. Such a move would enable him temporarily to retire from the turf only to return later when the produce from La Belle Stud, in the meantime, had become fit to Trainers at the Long Island tracks are praying for warm weather. The severe winter has made it impossible for them to take their horses out for early training, and the proximity of the Bennings meeting, less than four weeks off, has driven most of them to desperation. Before another week has elapsed it will not be at all surprising if many of the trainers ship their stables to Washington, where they expect a warmer climate and a track well thawed out. The attractiveness of the Bennings stakes has made a remarkable demand for stable room, with the probability that large fields will predominate throughout the meeting. Assistant Secretary Algernon Daingerfield, of the Jockey Club, has sent out a notice to trainers and jockeys that they should me applications for licenses without further delay. If they fail to do so, they cannot work at Washington until they have complied with the rules and regulations.

The death of Thomas D. Reilly, president of the Queens County Jockey Club, is mourned by all turfmen. Mr Reilly had planned even greater improvements at Aqueduct than those that brought the track up to its present high standard, and had also laid out the lines for new stakes and increased values in the old events. His ideas will be carried out, it is said, and Aqueduct will open on April 15 on the same scale that Mr. Reilly cut out for it.

Secretary Walter Edwards of the Metropolitan Jockey Club calls attention to the fact that entries for all stakes to be run at the Jamaica spring meeting will close next Tuesday. This will include the $5,000 Excelsion Handicap, which netted more than $6,000 Excelsion that tyear's winner, W. C. Whitney's Blackstock. John Mack has been appointed superintendent of the Jamaica track in the place of James Dunphy, who will confine his work in future to Gravesend. in future to Gravesend.

Edgar N. Wrightington has been appointed head coach of the Harvard football eleven. He was captain of the Harvard team in 1894 and a famous haifback. It was in 1894, during the Yale-Harvard game at Springfield. Mass., that Frank Hinkey, the New Haven captain, was accused of deliberately jumping on Wrightington, the latter receiving a broken collarbone. Because of this accident and others equally unpleasant, the relations between the Blue and the Crimson were temporarily severed. Wrightington in recent years has always refereed the more important football games, and has been noted for extreme fairness. Harvard men are much pleased over Wrightington's appointment.

The new board of football coaches just appointed at the University of Pennsylvania consists of Dr. J. C. McCracken, S. M. Goodman, Dr. J. B. Carnett, William Morice, C. M. Wharton and George Brooke, all famous players in their time.

Auto Club Country House.

A special committee appointed for the of the Automobile Club of America, asking for opinions and suggestions concerning the establishment of a country clubhouse. The question is whether to locate the proposed country house in Westchester, on posed country house in Westchester, on Long Island or in New Jersey.

It is desired to get a place where docking for motor boats may be had, where golf links may be laid out, and where there is room near by for a racetrack to be built. Nothing definite has been decided upon yet, but a number of the most prominent, wealthy and influential members of the club are interested in the project, and in order to carry it out it seems likely that the limit on the membership will be raised from 400 to 1,000, as it is estimated that it would require at least that many to make a country club a success.
